All Saints' Welcomes Everyone

A Season for the Soul:

Finding Space in the Scramble

As the winter chill begins to yield—however reluctantly—to the first hints of a Hertford spring, we find ourselves once again at the threshold of Lent.

It's a season that often gets a bad rap. For many, "Lent" conjures up images of joyless self-denial, the begrudging abandonment of chocolate, or the counting of days until that first Easter egg. But if we view Lent merely as a spiritual obstacle course, we miss the point entirely. In the bustle of our lives—between the school runs, the commute, and the digital noise that follows us everywhere—Lent isn't an added burden.

It is an invitation to breathe.

The Wilderness in the Every Day

The tradition of Lent resonates with the forty days Jesus spent in the wilderness. Now, most of us aren't heading into the desert anytime soon, but we all have our own "wilderness" moments—times of loneliness, testing, or simply feeling a bit lost in the fog of a busy life.

Lent asks us to stop running for a moment and look at where we are. It's about intentionality. Instead of just "giving something up" because it's the done thing, why not "take something up" that feeds our inner quest for God?

- Silence: Try five minutes of quiet before the laptop opens.

- Service: Reach out to someone in our community who hasn't been seen in a while.
- Study: Revisit a Gospel story with fresh eyes, looking for the humanity in the margins.

Beyond the Pancakes

While Shrove Tuesday is a wonderful bit of fun (and believe me, I enjoy a pancake as much as the next person), the Ash Wednesday services that follow offers something deeper. When we receive the ashes, we are reminded of our mortality—not to be morbid, but to be earthed. It reminds us that we are human, we are fragile, and we are deeply loved by a God who meets us exactly where we are.

This year at All Saints, let's use this time not to strive for "perfection," but to strive for presence. Let's be present to God, present to each other, and present to the needs of our neighbours.

A Prayer for the Journey

"Lord, as we enter these forty days, clear the clutter from our minds
and the heaviness from our hearts.
Help us to travel light,
to walk kindly,
and to find you in the quiet places.
Amen."

You'll a fuller outline of how we will keep Lent more fully as a Festival Of Faith overleaf.

However you pilgrim through this Holy Season I look forward to walking this path with you all. Whether you're a regular in the pews or someone just peeking through the doors to find a moment of peace, you are most welcome here.

Every blessing, Simon

Festival of Faith

This year our Lenten observance is to become a Festival of Faith which will help us examine whether some of the things that drive neighbourhoods and nations still matter.

To help us to do that we are hosting three evening talks, straight after our Sunday evening worship at 7.30pm, focussed on the theme of 'Faith in...' and our speakers will help us to think about why politics, science and care for our children matter for the good of all.

Professor Russell Cowburn 8/3
Rt Hon Josh Dean MP - 15/3
Mark Russell OBE - 22/3

We will also be offering the opportunity to undertake two different forms of self-examination.

During these weeks you may wish to take part in a spiritual MOT. In the same way that we need to ensure that our motor vehicles are roadworthy by passing an MOT, so by doing a spiritual MOT will give us the opportunity to think about what we need to flourish as people, and maybe what parts of lives we need to maybe fine-tuned to enable that. Keep an eye out for the forms in church.

Lent has traditionally been about a spiritual self-examination - what are our inner drives and how do we enable them to be more like Christ's.

On a weekly basis beginning on Thursday 19th February we will be offering the chance to learn about one of the traditional spiritual disciplines that have historically played such a formative part in the life of disciples of Christ, and then for a week to try it out, and reflect on it before trying another.

Sign up for a group in church and keep an eye out because if groups like this don't work for you, the material will be collated on a handout available to all.

Hopefully our Festival of Faith this year will have something for everyone and give each of us the chance to understand ourselves and our society's drives and motives more fully, and what we need to enable each of us individually and together, to live life abundantly.

Ash Wednesday 2026

There are four events planned:

- 7.30 am Ashes to Go – Hertford East station
- 10.00 am Ashes to Go – Salisbury Square
- 12.30pm Said Eucharist with Imposition of Ashes

8pm Choral Communion with Imposition of Ashes.

Could folks please return any Palm crosses from former years to the back of church or through the Vicarage door by Monday 16th February please.

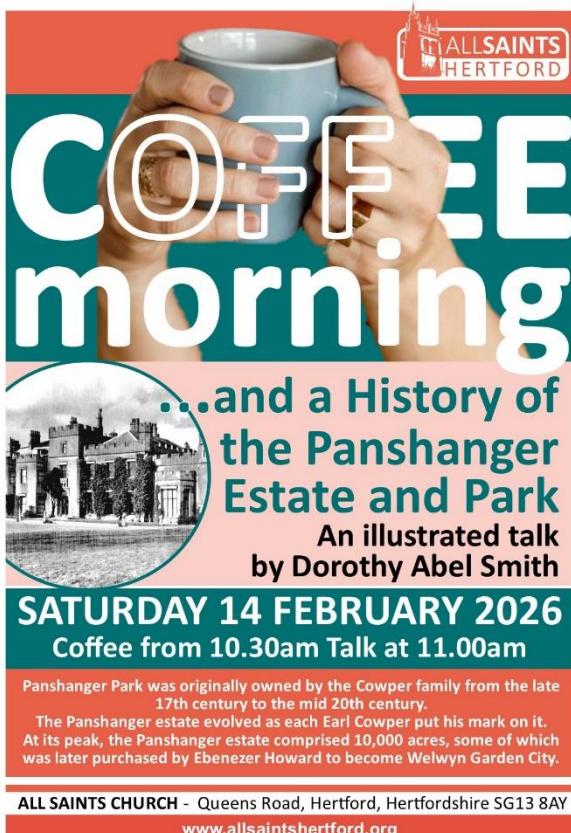

Ash will be made at Evening Prayer on 17th at 5pm and all are welcome at that service.

Up and coming events at All Saints

The events group has met and set out dates for events for the whole of 2026!

The odd date may move, but we have planned something every month, as well as the regular 'Greenwatch' talks every 2nd Saturday, we decided to earmark the 4th Saturday for other events where possible.

These events will be visible on the Church Diary on the website.

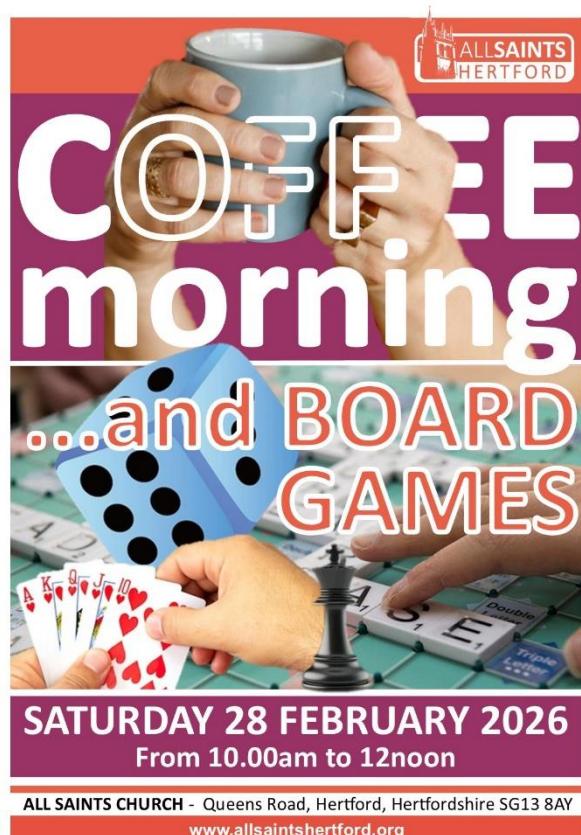

There is no 'Greenwatch' on 14th February but we do have a 'Valentine Coffee Morning' with Dorothy Abel Smith giving an illustrated talk at 11 am about the 'History of the Panshanger Estate' which will be really interesting. Cakes will be on sale that day too!

On Saturday 28th we have a 'Coffee and Games morning' between 10 and 12.00 with everyone welcome for a fun competitive morning!

In March we have 'Greenwatch' on 14th and on Saturday 28th we hope to have Dog walk finishing with a Pub Lunch in Hertford. Details to follow.

As well as the church events we have booked in to join in with various events in town with stalls booked for 'The Teddy Bears Picnic' at the Castle in July and 'The Christmas Gala' in November, which was really successful last year.

We looked back at the Christmas Tree Festival, which we felt was a great success, and pleased to say that it will run again this year from November 21st to November 29th. However, we feel it can be even better, but in order to do this we really do need more people to help us at this – and other events. We are also planning ahead MUCH earlier, so that we can sort things like the Tombolas well before the event and not have prizes and sale items delivered on the day itself.

Planning ahead is not something All Saints is used to, but we really have to do this to make our events even better than they have been previously! If you think you can help us with anything, please get in touch with the Events Team! Thank you

Dorothy, Shirley, Nerine & Alex

Finance News

The Christmas Fair raised £2,460.93 – a great result, thanks to all.

Along with equally good contributions across the board, our 2025 income was some £20,000 more than budgeted and our expenditure about £1000 below budget, meaning that our planned deficit of £25000 was reduced to £5,500. More detail and information about our 2026 plans in future issues (and at our APCM).

Charity Event December 8th 2025

Thank you to anyone who helped with this in anyway. Including some match funding from The Big Give the total raised for SchoolReaders was over £68,000!

Dark Skies 7th February

Following on from Simon Thorp's talk at the October 'Greenwatch' readers may like to join in one or more of the events on 7th February.

This unique community event invites visitors to experience the stars with reduced artificial lighting and minimal light pollution.

Expert groups including LAPD Lighting Design, The University of Hertfordshire: Bayfordbury Observatory, and the Hertford Astronomy Group will join together for an inspiring evening of stargazing, educational talks and hands-on activities. Highlights include a mobile planetarium and interactive learning about the impact of artificial light on people and the natural environment.

In addition, between 3.30pm and 5.30pm, BEAM will host a special screening of Night Burns Like Cigarettes, followed by a post screening talk from Simon Thorp, lighting designer at LAPD, that reflects on the film and considers if darkness could really play a greater part in our future world.

Good Morning to All Saints Church Members

I would, on behalf of The Rotary Club of Hertford like to thank all concerned who contributed to the collection of coats you allowed us to hold in your Church.

We collected in total that week over 100 coats and I am sure you will be delighted to know that they were all in very good condition and will soon be on their way to help those people who have a need in Ukraine. So our grateful thanks.

Covid Day of Reflection Sunday 8th March

The UK Commission on Covid Commemoration was set up to find appropriate ways to remember those who lost their lives since the pandemic began, and to explore how we mark this period of our history.

The Commission held an in depth consultation with those most impacted by the pandemic, including representatives from bereaved family organisations. In September 2023 it published its final report, recommending an annual UK-wide day of reflection.

By continuing to hold a Day of Reflection, in line with previous years, we hope to offer communities across the country the opportunity to join together in commemoration of those who lost their lives.

The next COVID-19 Day of Reflection will take place on Sunday 8 March 2026.

Wall Hangings and Banners at All Saints

We had an excellent meeting in January about the wall hangings and banners on the pillars. Many people said how much they enjoyed seeing the different colours matching the liturgical seasons.

We had lots of ideas, including relating the banners to the readings where possible and mentioning them on the Pew Sheet. We could potentially involve the schools at some point later in the year. We may have a craft session to make some fish (as we did for the doves) or other things, and people can offer to do various weeks with the resources we have gathered.

Another idea was linking animals to the various Saints which sounds interesting. A few people have offered to assist with this task. Watch this space and please contact me with any ideas!

Creating Space for Nature

No matter what your outdoor space you have there are things that you can do for local wildlife. Whether you have a garden, a yard, a balcony, or a window box you can add and create things to make your space more attractive to wildlife.

Think about adding plants that offer pollen and nectar for bees, butterflies and other insects. Plant flowers that bloom at different times of year to keep the supply of nectar going. Add a tree or bush that has berries which will provide food for birds in the autumn and winter. Holly, Ivy and Rowan are great. Where possible plant native flowers, plants and trees which have evolved to flourish in this climate and to best support animals that rely on them.

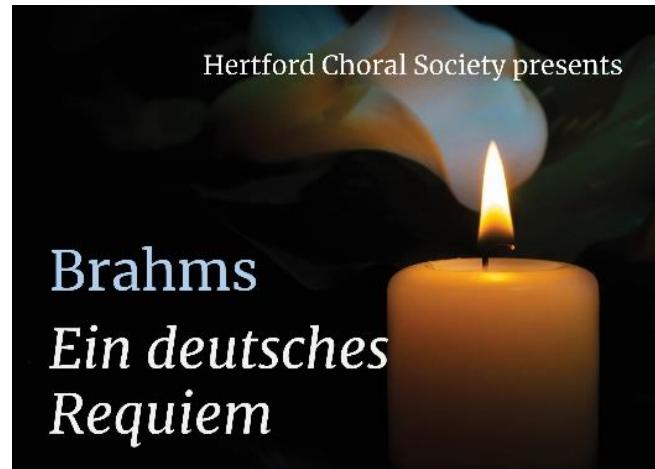

Add features that create shelter, this could be artificial such as adding a bird box or a hedgehog house or natural like adding a log pile, creating a hedge, leaving an area of grass to grow long, or creating a mini wildlife flower meadow.

A pond is one of the best features you can add to your space to help wildlife. Your pond doesn't need to be big, a washing-up bowl, a large plant pot, or a disused sink could all be repurposed as ponds, providing you make sure creatures can get in and out. We have an initiative called Pledge a Pond, where we encourage people to create new ponds as well as mapping existing ponds.

There is loads of great advice on the Herts and Middlesex Wildlife Trust website to help you get started.
